SCHEDULE FOR CARNIVAL LAWN TENNIS IS OUT

Honolulu to See Classiest Exhibitions of the Game Ever Staged Here

One of the best features of the Mid-Pacific Carnival this year will be the singles tennis tournament and exhibition doubles, to be pulled off under the auspices of the Carnival association. Three outside players will compete against the locals, these being William Johnston, E. P. Larned and H. C. Breck.

Johnston needs no introduction to the Honolulu public as he visited here last year in company with Elin Fottrell. Since that time he has had a successful eastern campaign and was a serious contender for the Davis cup team. He is now ranked at 6 in the United States and is one of the sensational players of the day.

E. P. Larned is a brother of W. S. Larned, seven times champion, and himself has been in the first ten three times. He was the winner of the famous Longwood bowl in 1911 from a field which included McLaughlin, Touchard, Miles, Dabney and other players of note.

H. C. Breck is the present University of California champion, a young player of great promise. He made a very successful northwestern campaign last season, and has in addition pushed Johnston to draw sets in more than one match.

The preliminaries of the singles tournament will be played off before the Carnival begins, having a schedule for the Carnival which is definite. In the preliminaries Eklund the Hawaiian champion will meet the winner of the Downey-O'Dowda match, while Argabrite will play in all probability Robertson. The official schedule for the Carnival will be:

Sunday, Feb. 21. — Moana Hotel Courts: 3:30 p. m. A. J. Lowrey vs. winner Eklund. Downey-O'Dowda matches: 4:30 p. m. E. P. Larned vs. winner Argabrite-Robertson match.

Tuesday, Feb. 23. — Pacific Courts: 3:30 p. m. W. M. Johnston vs. W. H. Hoogs; 4:30 p. m. H. C. Breck vs. A. L. Castle; 5 p. m. Johnston and Breck vs. Hoogs and Argabrite.

Wednesday, Feb. 24. — Pacific Courts: 1:45 and 4:45. Semi-finals singles.

Thursday, Feb. 25. — Pacific Courts: 4 p. m. Final singles.

Friday, Feb. 26. — Pacific Courts, 4 p. m. doubles, Johnston and Breck vs. Larned and Lowrey.

Saturday, Feb. 27. — Moana Hotel Courts: 4 p. m. doubles, Johnston and Breck vs. Castle and Eklund.

First and second prizes will be awarded in the singles matches. Admission of 25 cents will be charged for all matches at the Pacific Courts, except finals which will be 50 cents. To meet the somewhat heavy expenses of this tournament season tickets will go on sale today at $1 for the entire tournament, and may be obtained from A. L. Castle, A. J. Lowrey or Stanley Kennedy. It is to be hoped that the advance sale will be large, as never before in the history of Hawaii has such a high class tournament been attempted.

CLASSY BOWLING IN THE Y. M. C. A. LEAGUE THIS WEEK

Y. M. C. A. BOWLING SCHEDULE.
Tonight—Honolulu vs. P. B. C.
Tomorrow—West End vs. L. P. C.
(Club League).
Wednesday—Cosmos vs. Signal Corps.
Thursday—Chamberlain's Colts vs. Coast Defense.

The Honolulu meet the P. B. C. five in the Y. M. C. A. bowling league tonight. This match which is scheduled to begin at 7:45 will be a warm one since both teams are well up in the percentage table. The Honolulu are on top with nine straight wins, while the P. B. C. have taken six of their first nine games.

The P. B. C. will lineup with A. G. Serrao, H. S. Canario, Manuel Ferreira, John Azevedo and O. P. Soares. Capt. Leslie Scott will have C. C. Clark, Jas. P. Winne, R. E. Scott, Geo. K. Mills and W. Williams on his score sheet. Tomorrow evening the Club Leaguers will have the alleys, the West Enders rolling against the L. P. C.

FEDERALS MAY LAUNCH SOME MINOR LEAGUES

[By Latest Mail]
NEW YORK, N. Y.—Minor leagues in New England, the South and Middle West as allies, are promised the Federals by official agents of the independent and volunteer who have been active during the past week. According to an announcement made yesterday in the eastern office of the Federal League, one of the results of the activity in the minor field may be the establishment of a new circuit in New England League and Eastern Association, furnishing opposition in the larger cities of the existing circuit.

High A. McKinnon, a Federal League representative, who has been at work in several of the strongholds of the Eastern Association, is now studying conditions in the cities of Lynn, Lowell, Lawrence and Worcester, Mass., and Manchester, N. H.—cities which have at some time or at present are enrolled in the New England League. It has long been the idea of baseball fans in Hartford, Springfield, New Haven and Bridgeport, of the Eastern Association, that the Eastern Association or the original Connecticut League, did not provide a setting in keeping with the ambition and resources of the thriving cities.

The same conditions have prevailed in the New England League. Worcester, the largest city in the circuit, is the third largest in New England, being surpassed in population only by Boston and Providence. In the old Eastern League that preceded the international, Worcester was paired with Providence at the northeast end of the circuit. Worcester was once a stronghold of the National League and contributed to history Lee Richmond, a sensational left-hand pitcher from Brown University, who was among the first to get into the record books for a no-hit performance.

Hartford was enrolled as a charter member of the National League city, and before being coaxed into Class I surroundings had a fling in the Eastern League. Because of the excellent railroad facilities it would be possible to get eight of the best cities in New England grouped for practical results. Instead of being held back by large expenditures in traveling, the promoters could provide baseball of a grade several degrees faster than any of the cities has experienced since its "big time" in the national sport under promising conditions.

As a matter of civic pride there has been exceptional interest in the new minor circuit shown in several of the cities visited by Mr. McKinnon. Until reports from all interested points have been received it will not be possible to even arrange for a tentative circuit. Volunteers working in the Federal cause have reported from the South and Middle West, where two established leagues are divided on the question of continuing under old conditions. With plants already established in several cities of a minor league in the South now urging alliance with the "Feds," the work necessary for the completion of an eight club circuit of independents is considered easy or accomplishment, as financial aid has been assured from two cities not at present enrolled in any league.

One of the chief points noted by Robert Ward, vice-president of the Federal League, in his visit to Chicago, was the sudden increase in minor league sentiment favoring the Federals. Outside of the court case this interested the Brooklyn Federal League Club owner more than any of the incidents in connection with the gathering of baseball powers.

"What had appeared as one of our greatest problems, that of establishing minor leagues, has reached a point in its solution where we are now carefully choosing," said Mr. Ward. "The danger of being overloaded with players has passed, and because of the opening for use of our surplus talent it will be possible to concentrate on bringing the brand of baseball in the Federal League this season up to the highest possible point of efficiency."

"The minor leagues are assured

SUNDAY'S RESULTS.
Fort De Russy 26, 2nd Infantry 12.
Engineers 48, Signal Corps 14.

Two important basketball games, the results of which will have a good deal to do with the final standings of the teams in the Service League, were played on the armory court Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon. Saturday the National Guard won a tough game from the Department Hospital and yesterday afternoon the Fort De Russy team, which has been coming like a whirlwind recently, trimmed the 2nd Infantry outfit in decisive style. The win of the Guard was not exactly a surprise, although the Hospital outfit was considered a formidable combination, but the defeat of the 2nd Infantry by Capt. Wallers' aggregation was only considered by those who witnessed the week. At that time it was noted that the Coast Artillerymen had made wonderful improvement in team play, and among close followers of the game it was predicted that the Second was about due for a fall.

The week-end games made all sorts of changes in the percentage table. The 2nd Infantry drops from first to second place, while the Guard goes back to the top. The Alerts get into third place and the Hospital drops from third to fifth, while the Engineers move into the first division. De Russy, Signal Corps and Armstrong retain their relative positions. The Department Hospital team thoughtfully brought along its goat Saturday night and by the laws of the league forfeited the game. The loss of the game was the property of the National Guard. However, as the Guard players have quite a head at the present time they waived claim and the goat went back to the harmless ward of the hospital, with considerably less ceremony than it came.

In the second game Saturday night the Alerts were out to apply the whitewash brush to Armstrong and this they succeeded in doing, although the gunners made as game a fight as anyone could wish for. The main trouble with the Armstrong team is that it does not practice nearly as regularly as the other clubs in the league. Some good coaching and systematic practice would do wonders for Fort Armstrong.

The Signal Corps again sprung some new players yesterday afternoon. There have been continual changes in this combination, which is the reason why it is still shy on team work.

The next games are down for Wednesday afternoon, when the Alerts will play the Signal Corps in the opener, and the Department Hospital goes against De Russy. This last game should be a hummer.

M'ARDLE IN BAD WITH THE VENICE MANAGEMENT

Here's something from a San Francisco paper about our old friend Mc Ardle that will be of interest to Honolulu fans:

Honus Mc Ardle, for years a prime favorite in San Francisco because of his sensational fielding ability, will likely pass out of the Coast League this season. The information has just leaked out that Happy Hogan on his last visit to San Francisco ripped the former Seal up and down the back. In short, he charged that Mc Ardle was a disorganizer and one of the bitterest disappointments he had ever experienced in baseball. Hap said further that if he could not make some sort of a deal Mc Ardle would be handed his unconditional release.

This comes as a big surprise, for Hogan, always was sweet on Mc Ardle. Fact is, he traded Spide Baum to San Francisco for the purpose of securing the star infielder. Just how Mc Ardle created trouble for Venice Hogan did not say, but the news is authentic that Hogan is sore at Honus and is determined that he will not be on his team this coming season.

Walter A. Johnson of Westchester county, was elected president of the New York Progressive state committee.

splendid talent, too. Whether we have many minor leagues or none, not a player who has a contract with the Federal League is a fixture in baseball."

SOLDIER BOXERS IN FAST TRIALS AT SCHOFIELD

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Feb. 8.—The final tryout of boxers for the amateur bouts to be staged at the Cavalry-Artillery hall next Saturday was held at the Post library Friday night. There were some classy exhibitions and some matches were made that are sure to make next Saturday's entertainment a great success.

Capt. P. D. Glasford and Chaplain Ignatius Fealy, who are promoting the affair, have been swamped with applications from glove experts who are anxious to make an appearance in the ring. A few more will be given a chance tonight to demonstrate their native abilities and perhaps a few more bouts will be added to the program.

The bout that is creating the greatest interest is a four-round go between Bobby Moore and Tony Signaigo, who are old hands at the game. These two put on the gloves for a two-round exhibition Friday night and gave the fans just a taste of what they may expect to see when they climb into the ring Saturday next.

Billy Neumann, who claims the middleweight championship of the Atlantic coast, put on a two-round exhibition with Vincent Miccio which stirred up the enthusiasm of all who were present. Neumann, it will be remembered, went eight rounds with Carlin in the last big fight that took place at Schofield. "Bud" Walters was slated to meet Carlin but did not put in an appearance, so Neumann was substituted, and though he was not in training gave Carlin all that was coming to him. Neumann will also appear in the ring Saturday night, probably against Joe Potts from Fort Shafter, and the four rounds, though merely an exhibition affair, will be worth walking many miles to see.

Charlie Cooper and Andy Berger put up two fast rounds, as also did Kid Welsh and Hoss Hoey. Hoey is an old-timer who took part in many bouts at the Olympic club in Manila and is a joy to see with his hands in the mitts. Kid Johnson from London was a bit too strong for Ralph Norton and had to be frequently cautioned by the referee to be easy with his punch. Tony Dunbar is anxious to match up with Joe Potts next Saturday. Frankie Berra is a clever man with the gloves and is willing to take on any man his weight. He can hold his own with the best of them as he demonstrated during three rounds with Scotty Clark, another clever lad.

The management will have its hands full next Saturday finding adequate seating and standing room in the small Cavalry-Artillery hall, which will not hold more than 700.

CORBETT WILL BRING A WHITE HOPE WITH HIM

When Jim Corbett passes through Honolulu February 22, in the Ventura, en route for Australia, he will have in town a new "white hope" that may or may not be the real goods. The funny part of the transaction is that Corbett himself makes this reservation, proving himself the only discoverer of a possibility instead of a certainty.

Corbett says in a recent newspaper story: "Corbett Has a New 'Hope.' Since it was announced in a Portland (Ore.) paper that I had decided to take a white heavy-weight with me when I leave for Australia during February, I have been besieged with letters and inquiries from friends and readers who want me to give them 'some dope' on the latest aspirant for heavy-weight honors. This indicates that the boxing fans of the country are still watching and waiting patiently for a white heavy who looks like the goods. From the tenor of the letters received I should say that the fans at large do not rely on Jess Willard to any great extent, as nearly every one of my correspondents has expressed the opinion that the big fellow will prove an easy victim for Johnson in Juarez next March.

I haven't the space this week to devote to my heavy-weight discovery, but next week I will give my readers the information asked for. Mind you, I am not touting this fellow as a 'coming champion,' but from what I have seen of him so far he looks good enough to devote some time and attention to, and that's what I propose. One thing I feel confident of is that he 'weighs more above the shoulders' than the average heavy-weight of today. And that's something to start on.

The Canadian pavilion has no hall room as the other state and foreign structures have, but every foot of the interior of the largest of all foreign pavilions is filled with government exhibits.

Two indoor ball games were played Saturday between the Beretania and the Kauluvela clubs, on the Beretania playground, both being won by the Kauluvela team. The first game between the two midget teams was by far the most interesting, and was won by Kauluvela in the ninth inning by a great batting rally when the Kauluvela boys scored six runs and then held Beretania runless in their half of the same inning.

Ah Kee pitched a fine game for Beretania in all but the fatal ninth, when the Kauluvelas plastered everything he had to all corners of the diamond and, as usually happens, his support at this time weakened and the game that seemed already won was lost by a score of 12 to 11.

Score by innings:
Kauluvela 0 0 0 4 0 0 2 0 6—12
Beretania 1 0 5 0 3 2 0 0 0—11
Umpires—S. W. Robley and Wah Chee.

The second game, between the junior teams, was won by the score of 22 to 14. Kauluvela scored 10 runs in the second innings, and from then on forged gradually ahead until the game ended.

The batting honors of the second game belong to Shinichi, who got a home run in the second, with three on bases, and another in the third, with two on bases. Rosario, Kauluvela's pitcher, also did some heavy slugging. Ah Sueing hit well and made a fine catch in the eighth. The best piece of individual fielding was pulled off by Ah Hot in the second, when he caught a line drive on the dead run three feet from the foul line. Rosario, pitching for Kauluvela, got away to a bad start, Beretania scoring five runs in the first, but after that he pitched good ball. Beretania's pitcher did not get the support nor anything like it that Kauluvela gave theirs.

Beretania's junior team is composed of good stuff and what they need is practice and team work. The next game is between the Kakaako and the Beretania teams on Tuesday night, the opener to start at 6:45 p. m.

Score by innings:
Kauluvela 0 10 3 0 2 0 6 1 0—22
Beretania 5 0 1 2 3 1 0 1 1—14
Umpires—K. Leong and S. W. Robley.

SOME ODDITIES CAUGHT IN CORRESPONDENCE ON GREAT EUROPEAN BATTLE

[Associated Press]
CHRISTIANIA, Norway.—The war has filled the Antarctic with whales, according to the belief of some whalers who say the mines, torpedoes and shells in the North Sea have driven the animals in schools further north this winter. One of the large Norwegian whaling companies has just distributed a dividend of 25 per cent among shareholders on this season's catch. The whale oil refineries of Norway are sharing this prosperity.

While the whalers are bringing wealth to Norway, the report of the department of agriculture is disappointing as to the amount of crops yield, which falls about $2,000,000 below the average year. Fortunately, the quality of grain has been unusually good, and the higher price due to the war is to the advantage of the farmers. The economic loss, however, will be felt by the country. Hay and potatoes were the only crops reaching their normal yield.

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Feb. 8.—The first game between two batteries of the 1st Battalion was played Saturday afternoon, in which C Battery was victorious over A, 6 to 4.

C Battery showed some superiority at the bat and gave better support to Whitfield and Gatley than was accorded to Burnett by the A Battery team. Ryan, Miller and Mende were conspicuously strong at the bat for C Battery, while Shanahan of the A Battery team landed on the ball for two safeties in three times at bat. There was plenty of excitement to keep the fans on their toes. In the ninth inning A Battery would have tied the score had it not been for a small error in judgment which prevented them making more than one run in that inning.

The score by innings:

Bat. C 0 1 0 2 0 1 0 2 6 9 2
Bat. A 0 0 0 1 0 0 2 0 1 4 6 5

Batteries—Battery C, Wakefield, Gatley and Ryan; Battery A, Burnett and Wilkinson. Struck out by Whitfield 4, by Gatley 1, by Burnett 11. Base on balls, off Whitfield 1, off Burnett 2. Three-base hit, Ryan. Two-base hit, Peach. Umpire—Sergt. Hollingsworth, 35th Infantry.

Yesterday Stoll pitched B Battery to victory, time and time again pulling himself out of a hole that seemed certain to spell defeat to his team. E Battery took the lead in the first inning when Henderson, the first man up, doubled and then scored on a passed ball. Until the fifth inning the game was nip and tuck, when B Battery bunched a few hits and put the game in close storage. The final score was Battery B 8, Battery E 2.

Fouquette, who is being tried out behind the bat for B Battery since the departure of Sergt. Monroe on the last transport, is a little unsteady, but is strong on the peg and has the makings of a first-class back-stop.

The score by innings:

Batteries—Battery E, Kent and Henderson. Battery B, Stoll and Fouquette. Struck out, by Kent 5, by Stoll 12. Base on balls, off Stoll 4, off Kent 2. Passed balls, Henderson 2, Fouquette 2. Two-base hit, Henderson. Umpire, Sergt. Collins, 25th Infantry.

Electricqueing is to be the favorite means of seeing the sights at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The old push chairs of other expositions and the Atlantic City board walk have been placed in the discard by the electricque at San Francisco. These are electrically driven wicker chairs that can be operated by women and children by pressure of the foot. They have room for two persons and are equipped with emergency brakes. The first of the 400 have arrived on the exposition grounds.

THE ARGENTINE team and the Hawaiian four will take part in the polo games which will be played at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco. After these teams finish the tournament in the exposition games it is proposed to have them come East and play at Meadow Brook.

"The Argentine is one of the best teams of poloists in the world. Polo has been in favor in the Argentine Republic for a number of years, and as the Argentines are natural born horsemen, they have managed to master all the intricacies of the game. In previous years members of the team have played in England against 'the Cantabs,' and played so well that the English polo experts bestowed high praise on their work. The Hawaiian players are not such experts as the Argentines, but 'the Islanders,' as they are called, have many fast ponies and are worthy opponents for any poloists.

"The Argentines will bring to the United States a number of very fast ponies, the progeny of thoroughbreds imported to South America. It is said that these ponies compare in the matter of fleetness of foot and cleverness with the ponies that carried the American and the English players last year.

"The polo championships for the United States will be played in Rhode Island this year. The form that the American players display during the championships will have a bearing on the make-up of the American four, if it is necessary to select a team next year to play for the Meadow Brook trophy."
